

Assignment Zero – L^AT_EX Limericks

Aidan Carr

Aidan.Carr1@marist.edu

September 7, 2023

1 My Limericks

A fun story:

There once was a man from New Jersey,
who learned C++ when he was thirty.

He was self-taught in a week,
what an awfully strange technique.
This guy sounds incredibly nerdy.

Why I picked C++:

I've never eaten a guava,
I've never even seen lava.
There's so many things I want to try,
like learning a language for 435.
So `hello world!` and goodbye Java!